THE WEEKLY CLARION

Hon David G. Burnett, of Ken tucky, is dead. He died recently at Hopkinsville. He represented Kentucky in the United States Congress before the war, and during the civil struggle was elected to the Confed-

IMPORTANT TO SHIPPERS .- It will be seen by notice elsewhere that by a resolution of the Board of Directors of the New Orleans and Jackson Railroad. the rates of freight on cotton and produce are reduced from 25 to 334 per cent. The Board were induced to make these reductions on account of the scarcity of provision and the bad prospect of a crop-a considerate and liberal action that will be appreciated by the public, and that we trust will be followed by the other roads.

J. H. V. Allen, Secretary and Trea-Transportation Company, of which Gen. Jos. E. Johnston is President," announces through the New Orleans Times that the Company deem it their duty to discontinue their operations over many of their lines of transportation, and have taken steps looking to an entire suspension of their business in certain contingencies. The causes which have brought about this result will be explained in full to the general meeting of stockholders, called to be from the signs of the times, that the tion of things here, that there will be a held in the city of Richmond on the 9th proximo.

We published yesterday a communication in reference to the general management and policy of this road. which, so far from endorsing, we deemed unjust in its main features -The present Directors and other officers have accomplished wonders in the reconstruction and equipping of the road, and have labored under peculiar difficulties in effecting what has already been accomplished. Its financial affairs were in almost a hopeless condition, and it required the most persevering negotiatins and financier ing skill of Generals Beauregard and Adams, to effect an arrangement by which the road has been relieved from serious embarrassment. We are fully satisfied that the management is now in the hands of honest and capable men, who, while they will be alive to the interests of the road, will not dis- power and not by the sanction of our cide on which side in the political battle, regard the obligations which the corporation owe to the public. At the same time that we deem it our duty to say this much, we wish it understood that our columns are open to legitimate criticisms of all corporations, institutions and measures, chartered by the State, or which affect the public weal; and we do not think that the writer in our issue of yesterday was actuated by any other motive than to subserve the public good. onts. A Warning from Maine.

There is a paper published in the State of Maine called the Eastern Argus, which contains a calm and able review of the causes that led to the election of the entire Republican delegation in that State. It tells the penple that if the spirit which now dominates in Maine is to control the North, and direct the affairs of the nation, the end of the American Union is in view Were it sound and whoie, it could scarcely withstand the strains which this spirit would put to it; but with the Union broken-with ten spokes of declaring that "every citizen has the the thirty-six out of the wheel-it right to bear arms in defense of himmust go down with a crash when the pressure comes, as it will in the next Presidential election if not before, and that he was a citizen; and that charac- and it is thought court will adjourn this upset everything. And there are worse elements of commotion in the country now than ever before. Let anarchy once begin, and they will dash the ship of State upon the breakers and destroy

The elements are ripe for it, and the demagogues who have been fanning these passions for their own base parposes could no more control them than they could the surging of the sea. Let our brethren in other States be warned. Let them keep these revolutionary elements in subjection, if possible. The danger of our country is imminent, never more so than at this hour.
